You are one step closer to finding your ideal partner in technology and innovation. The Hong Kong Trade Development Council (HKTDC) cordially invites you to be connected with potential business partners at our upcoming first-ever regional webinar, catering especially for the technology and startup communities.

In addition to the latest tech community update by our newly-appointed Regional Director Mr. Silas Chu, it is our honour to have Mr. Henry Tan as our keynote speaker. As the Co-Founder and General Partner of the Hong Kong-based VC fund Q Venture Partners (<https://www.qventure.partners>), we will have an absolute specialist in deep tech and hardware technologies with us at the webinar to share the role of Hong Kong in funding, supply chain, distribution and beyond.

Q Venture Partners is looking to expand its investment portfolio which so far covers projects in Enabling Technologies, Industry 4.0, Robotics and IoT applications such as Enterprise, Health, Vehicle and Home, and more.

A Networking and Q&A session offers a virtual get-together amongst participants and special guests will follow the keynote, allowing maximum networking opportunities among participants to be invited across 55 countries and regions in Europe, Central Asia and Israel.
